DETAILED ACTION

According to 37 C.F.R. § 1.126 (Numbering of claims), the original numbering of the claims must be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When claims are added, they must be numbered by the applicant consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claim previously presented (whether entered or not).

In the Preliminary Amendment dated August 11, 2006, applicants cancelled all claims (1-34) and introduced new claims (34-66). The numbering of the new claims should begin with 35 and not 34. Appropriate correction is required.

This Election/Restriction is based on claim numbering starting with claim 35.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 35-52, 63 and 64, drawn to the technical feature of a complex comprising the V3 loop of gp120 and Tat.

Group II, claims 53-55, drawn to the technical feature of a method of generating antibodies using the complex of Group I.

Group III, claims 56 and 57, drawn to the technical feature of an antibody.

Group IV, claims 58-60, drawn to the technical feature of a method of immunization using the antibody of Group III.

Group V, claims 61, 62, 65 and 66, drawn to a method of immunizing using the complex of Group I.

Group VI, claim 67, drawn to a method detecting antibodies using the complex of Group I.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The technical feature shared among the inventions listed as Groups I-VI is a complex comprising the V3 loop of gp120 and Tat.

According to page 5 of the specification, the "complex of the present invention may generally be suitably provided as a combination of two peptide species in a vehicle suitable for injection. . . . The complex of the present invention will typically comprise the two peptide species in contact with each other. Whilst it is preferred, it is not necessary that the two species be present in stoichiometric amounts, nor that even a majority of either species be complexed or bound to the other. All that is required is that a sufficient amount of an antigenic combination of the two species be presented in order to be able to stimulate an immune response there against."

The noted shared technical feature does not provide a contribution over the prior art, as evidenced by the teachings of Voss et al. Voss et al. discloses the use of an HIV Tat protein and an HIV gp120 protein in the manufacture of a vaccine for immunization against HIV (abstract). In accordance with the teaching in the specification, Voss et al. discloses a combination of the two proteins. Hence, in the absence of a contribution over the prior art, the noted shared technical feature is not a shared special technical feature. Without a shared special technical feature, the inventions listed as Groups I-VI lack unity with one another.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
